'So You're Single Again?'

"So You're Single Again?" is the provocative title of a discussion scheduled for the Parents Without Partners general meeting to be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 25, in the Monterey Youth Center, El Estero Park.

Mrs. Elaine Johnson, director of the sociology department at Monterey Peninsula College, will lead the discussion and conduct a question-and-answer period for those interested in the problems of readjusting to a single life after being widowed or divorced.

Open to the public, the meeting will be followed by a coffee-and-social hour for discussion during which interested persons may obtain more information concerning the activities of the PWP group.

Parents Without Partners is an international non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization devoted to the welfare and interests of single parents. The Monterey Peninsula Chapter was established early last year.

Old Police Station Property May Be Sold

After a year and a half the City finally has a suitable buyer for the old police station property, but if the Council waits too long Mr. Howard Jackson may withdraw his offer.

Because Councilman William Sefton was absent from the meeting last night, and Councilman Herbert Blanks demands that all councilmen be present when voting on a major question, the City Council decided to wait until the February meeting to vote on the matter. This seemed to meet with Mr. Jackson's approval.

He plans to use one of the two lots to construct an exclusive woman's shop. He intends to provide off-street parking.

The revenue realized by the City will be in the neighborhood of $90,000.

Dr. Steckler Holds Last Meeting On Decision Making

At the City Council meeting last night, Dr. Melvin Steckler, special consultant to the City, gave his final recommendations in regard to decision making of the City Government.

After careful analysis of the functions of the City Council, City Administrator, Finance Officer and Department Heads, Dr. Steckler made the following recommendations and claimed such action could reduce City costs by about $20,000 if the plan was followed.

He said the City Council should establish policy and not become involved with administration. Commissioners should act as liaison agents between the council and the department heads.

Secondly, he suggested an enlargement of the City Administrator position. He would be relieved of his many City Clerk duties so he could work closely with departments of the City. As Steckler explained he would have no authority, but would have expanded responsibility.

Third, the consultant recommended the creation of an Analyst in lieu of the proposed Assistant City Administrator. This position would incorporate aspects of the present work of Art Plaxton, Hugh Bayless, and the present city consultant. He would have the task of providing analysis to decision makers.

In conclusion, Dr. Steckler pointed out that non-monetary benefits gained through the implementation of this proposal would be the reduction in time demands of unpaid elected and appointed officials.

Cable Plans For Carmel

Mr. W. L. McPheeters, president of MPTV cable branch of the Alarm Corp., was introduced as the luncheon speaker at Cosmos Club last Tuesday by Chairman Howard Bruggeman, retired, former president of that organization.

Mr. McPheeters said that because of the Carmel City Council renewal of his company's franchise for 15 years, they are proceeding with a 10-channel TV cable system for Carmel, Pebble Beach and part of Carmel Valley. He said that they would prefer an underground system if the right of ways were adequate but they now plan to go overhead, utilizing existing utility poles, with new wiring and amplifying equipment. They also plan major moves in their master antenna systems to overcome the interference by temperature inversions and hope to start reception on Mt. Bruno, about 4 miles from San Francisco.

The Cosmos meeting was presided over by the new officers for 1968, Howard Bruggeman, chairman; Carlton Morse, Vice-Chairman, and Victor P. Strite, secretary-treasurer.

An excellent meeting place and luncheon was provided at Hacienda Carmel.

WEATHER

Warmer, the temperature highs around 65, lows around 40. Increasing cloudiness. 65 per cent probability of nice days.

Overheard At Spyglass

An elderly gentleman with a walking stick approached two ladies and politely asked if they would let him by. When sarcastically asked by one, "why should I let you go through?" the quiet answer was, "because it's my golf course." And, indeed, it was S.F.B. Morse.

Drug Arrests Made Here

Five teenagers were arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale by Carmel police.

The arrests were made in the living quarters of Philip Arnold and Mark N. Weston, both 19, at San Carlos near 7th Avenue. John Dickinson, 19, Horizon Way, Carmel Valley; Kenneth Donahue, 19, Ford Road, Carmel Valley, and Arthur Telles, 18, of Castro Valley, were the others involved in the arrest.

Police indicated that the district attorney may later reduce charges against two of those arrested to visiting a place where marijuana was present. A sixth man who was present fled as the police entered the house.

The men were reported to be sitting around a large amount of marijuana cutting and packaging it in small containers when arresting officers with a search warrant entered the house.

BACH FESTIVAL AUDITIONS

Maestro Sandor Salgo will be in Carmel on Saturday, January 20th to audition singers and instrumentalists for the 1968 Carmel Bach Festival. Auditions will start at 4 to 6 p.m. and then again at 7:30 p.m. in the Music Room at Carmel High School.

Singers with a good background in choral singing are invited to audition. The main choral work for the 1968 Festival is the Mass in B Minor, complete.

Rehearsals will start on Tuesday, February 13th at 7:30 p.m. and will be held each week on Tuesday night.

Please phone the Festival office, 624-3437, for appointment.

Dates of the 1968 Festival are July 19th through 28th.

Carmel Museum and Village Theatre Join to Present Cultural Series

In cooperation with the Village Theatre, the Carmel Museum of Art, located on Dolores in the Old Wells Fargo Building, has undertaken an exciting, challenging endeavor to bring a culturally oriented film series to the Peninsula from February 7 through 20.

"Upon making the announcement that we will present at least four film programs of artistic merit each year," the museum directors stated, "we have been receiving a tremendous number of requests for film revivals. Difficult as it is to comply with all requests, we feel we have come very close to doing just that, in securing The Best of British Films, 14 of the most acclaimed motion pictures to reach our shores from the British Isles."

A portion of the proceeds will go to the museum, and according to Museum Curator Kent Seavey, "This is one way we can realize revenue without asking for donations."

Village Theatre manager Tom Graff said that these 14 movies are top productions, and "it was hard to find 14 films getting any more praise." He mentioned that the majority have won academy awards as well as international acclaim. Some of the films included in the series are: "Hamlet," "Romeo and Juliet," "Red Shoes," and "Room at the Top." Only three of the 14 are not recommended for youngsters: "Room at the Top," "Saturday Night-Sunday Morning," and "Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner."

The theatre manager complimented the Museum by stating, "Many of the things we have seen on the Peninsula ("Romeo and Juliet" and The Bolshoi Ballet-67") wouldn't have been shown if the Museum hadn't been in back of it."

The Carmel Museum is in charge of selling tickets in advance, and those interested are encouraged to purchase them at the Museum from Tuesday through Saturday between 10-4 p.m. Tickets will be mailed when requested.

Officials ask interested groups and organizations to make special arrangements through the museum. This series will be of special benefit to English Literature and dance students.

The Museum and the Village Theatre representatives plan to bring to Carmel a Steinbeck Festival . . . if this present series is successful. By successful, the officials mean at least to the break even point.

Theatre Review

THE LOVE-INS, starring Richard Todd and James Mac Arthur, make love, not war. Psychedelic light show. One hallucinatory effect reported by the majority and those who have experimented with LSD and other psychedelic drugs is the astonishingly brilliant display of colors they see during the "trip". Watch the hippies flip out with LSD. Live the whole wild scene.

ULYSSES. By resourceful film techniques at some points plus a willingness merely to illustrate voice over passages at others, Director Joseph Strick and an excellent cast have rendered James Joyce's great novel in absorbing cinematic terms.

THE COMEDIANS. Graham Greene wrote the screen play, set in Haiti, although filmed in Africa and the South of France. This is a turbulent drama of a group of Europeans living under the dictatorship of Papa Doc Duvalier, starring Elizabeth Burton playing the unfaithful wife of Peter Ustinov.

DIVORCE AMERICAN STYLE, vivid comic portrayal of the do's and don'ts of divorce, with Dick Van Dyke and Debbie Reynolds. Excellent script responds nicely to contemporary social mores.

THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIE. Carol Channing steals the show playing an eccentric wealthy widow. But also around to help in this comedy of the 1920's are Julie Andrews, who is delightful, James Fox, Bea Lillie and John Garvin. Although the direction, unfortunately, is unimaginative, and the script lacks wit, the whole show is extremely goodnatured. Some of the songs are from the period, and two numbers are by Sammy Cahn and James Van Heusen.

COUNTERPOINT. Charlton Heston is cast as a world famous symphony conductor who, with his orchestra, is captured by the Germans when they are making a USO tour during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II. A Nazi General is a man much like the autocratic Heston. His orders are to kill all prisoners, but first he wishes to have Heston conduct a concert while he waits fuel for his tanks.

THE AMBUSHERS. Dean Martin again plays secret agent Matt Helm in this third of the spoof series, where Martin and friends, mostly barely clad girls are searching—steady now— a missing flying saucer in the Mexican jungle.

Letters To The Editor

To the Carmel Pine Cone:

I wish to commend the Carmel Pine Cone on the editorial in the January 11th edition. I am in complete accord with your analysis of Ordinance 156 regarding use permits for motels in the R-1 zone in Carmel. Upon studying this Ordinance, it becomes very clear that it is impossible for the average layman to understand its intent because of the numerous contradictions.

Those persons who have received a copy of this Ordinance in the mail from the desk of the Mayor, should study it in detail before making a decision for it.

Isn't it strange that representatives of the Carmel Innkeepers Association and certain members of the City Council have taken such a desperate step as to make a personal attack on Councilman Norberg in the Monterey Peninsula Herald in order to prevent the issue from being presented to the people at an election? I urge all registered voters in the City of Carmel to sign the Referendum Petition.

Carvel Baldwin

Dear Editor:

I have read your witty January 4, 1968 editorial "Carmel Is Going to the Dogs," and have a suggestion.

At strategic corners, place two pails of water. Whenever dog and his owner ignore the ordinance covering "nuisance by animals" and thus commit a breach of the law, let the observer spill one pail of water on the owner and one on the dog. By this action, too, the sidewalk could be washed at the same time.

Pine Needles...

Lee Gottfried Dead

Another link with the early beginnings of Carmel was broken Monday evening with the passing of Lavon (Lee) Gottfried, well known building contractor since 1919.

Although he specialized in residences, he built the original Golden Bough Theatre. Born in Ohio, he was 72.

His wife, Bonnie Hale Gottfried, who died last June, was a step-daughter of Frederick Bechdolt, many-times mayor and one of the group of noted writers who first settled Carmel in 1906.

Mrs. Gottfried designed the garden, terraced with Carmel chalk rock, surrounding their canyon home on Flanders Way. The Gottfrieds had lived in the rambling house, built by Fred Bechdolt, since 1948 when he died.

Their two sons, Hugh, of Los Altos, and Freer, of Culver City, who used to deliver Pine Cones, were here for the services at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. A sister, Ruth Helmkamp of Spokane, Washington, was also here. Besides his three granddaughters, he is also survived by two brothers, Roger, of Carmel, and Wallace, of Independence, Oregon.

French Classes To Start

Mrs. John Dawdakin and Mrs. Jack Longfellow, both natives of France, will soon commence giving lessons in the French language. Those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity are asked to mail in their names, addresses and telephone numbers to Alliance Francaise, Box 3573, Carmel.

The "Jeune Alliance" has been formed so that students of French between the ages of 18 and 25 may compete for this coming summer's trip to attend the Paris school of the Alliance Francaise. In order to be eligible, these students must become members of "La Jeune Alliance."

The local Alliance gives a yearly scholarship for this cultural project. For further information, applicants are requested to telephone Mrs. Jerome Carlson, 624-3195 or Mrs. James Hathaway, 372-1138, co-presidents of the Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula.

Back From Mexico

Janie Vial and daughter Susie returned recently from their holidays in Mexico where they visited friends in Puerta Vallarta.

Drafting Students Show Outdoor Classroom Plans

Drafting plans for an outdoor art classroom were shown and explained by five students of Mr. Lippstreu's drafting class at the last school board meeting. Randy Douglas, chairman, called on Steve Blake, Michael Burrs, Jim Baldwin, and Jay Argust to cover various aspects of the project. The plans were worked on by the second-year drawing class of 21, as well as four third-year students.

Board member, Dr. Robert Newton, asked whether a cost analysis had been made. Mr. Lippstreu said that he had given this assignment to a student "who couldn't see what good studying math and English would do him."

Board president Clayton B. Neill Jr. suggested that the shop class might be able to build the outdoor classroom.

Thomas Paul Sings For Music Society

A program of songs by Handel, Schubert, Verdi and Ibert will make up the greater part of the coming Carmel Music Society concert on January 19 sung by Thomas Paul, well-known bass singer, who sang last summer for the Bach Festival. The program will end with a group of folk ballads. Mr. Paul will be accompanied by John Wustman at the piano. The program will of course take place at Sunset Theatre as have all the series.

Former Mayor Dies

Jim Thoburn, former Carmel mayor and council member from 1934 to 1938, died last week. Native of Palo Alto where he was son of a Stanford professor, he was 78. He served as a captain of field artillery in World War I.

Mr. Thoburn was in real estate in Carmel for many years, retiring in 1942 and moving to Stent with his wife Grace Wilson Thoburn.

Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, James Thoburn of Kansas City and Alan Thoburn of New Jersey, and three grandchildren.

Carmel Architect Honored By Museum

Marcel Sedletsky, Carmel architect, was recently honored by the Museum of Modern Art in New York by including in its permanent collection his plans for a most unusual house. The house, built in a fluid design of plaster and concrete on a steel cage, serves also as a water reservoir and hurricane shelter. Since it was designed for the Virgin Islands, there is no glass in the windows, but when it rains or blows, windows are closed by shields.

Immediate past president of the Monterey Bay Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Mr. Sedletsky was born in Russia. He was educated at the Technical University of Graz, Austria and the University of Cincinnati, Ohio. He has lived here since 1958.

Masters Concert

The following major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of January 18, 1968 over KMBY-FM at 8 p.m.:

Thursday, Jan. 18: Agon Ballet Suite, Stravinsky; Symphony No. 2 in C Minor, Opus 17, ("Little Russian"), Tchaikovsky.

Friday, Jan. 19: Suite in C Major, Telemann; Serenade in C for String Orchestra, Opus 48, Tchaikovsky.

In-Service Teacher Training Summer School Proposed

A summer school program at Carmel School in Carmel Valley for 150 children, grades one through four, which would provide individualized learning in reading and language arts, mathematics, aesthetics, science and physical education was proposed to the Carmel School Board last week.

The regular Carmelo staff whose principal is Edwin L. McCurry, would serve as a demonstration school for an in-service program for teachers. In conjunction with the Kettering Foundation and Pepperdine College, teachers would receive college credits during the four-week period of the workshop.

The program would cost approximately $9,200 with $5,700 being underwritten by the Kettering Foundation, Pepperdine College and Basic Aid.

Linda Anne Collins, Richard Monroe

Richard Monroe Engaged

March wedding plans for Linda Anne Collins and Richard Charles Monroe were announced recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Collins of Ontario. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Monroe of Carmel.

Linda was graduated from Chaffey College and attended Missouri State College. She is employed at Scientific Data Systems Inc. in Pomona.

Richard, a graduate of Carmel High School in 1962 and Monterey Peninsula College, is studying civil engineering at California Polytechnic College in Pomona. He is a member of the America Society of Civil Engineering and Veterans Club.

Kathryn Lompe Married

Highlands Inn wedding chapel was the setting for the recent marriage of Kathryn Yvonne Lompe of Carmel Highlands to Raymond Allen Baga in a ceremony performed by Judge Eugene Harrah.

Kathryn wore an original Daate gown of satin and lace and carried a white starburst bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Dianna.

Raymond's brother, David, served as his best man. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beaird of Monterey. Raymond is a graduate of Monterey Peninsula College.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of Kathryn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lompe of Carmel Highlands. Mr. Lompe is a tile contractor in Carmel.

The young couple spent their honeymoon in Southern California and are now at home in Carmel.

Singer

Tommy Faia, son of Dr. and Mrs. John R. Faia Jr., is in Hollywood cutting phonograph records. Two recent releases are "I Am Back" and "Who's Got the Right!"

Betty Haak Marries Harold Olson

All Saints' Episcopal Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Betty Haak and Harold Gaylord Olson. Betty is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Haak of Carmel Point and Howard Haak of Palm Springs and New York who attended the wedding.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olson of West Covina.

Betty wore a gown of peau de soie with scoop neckline, glove-point sleeves and a chapel train. Her veil was held in place by a small bandeau. She carried a basket of mixed flowers. Her sister, Mrs. William Mackin (Marjorie Haak), of Salt Lake City, was her only attendant. Marjorie's young son, Mark, was ring-bearer and her little flower girl, Tracy McKain, was a niece of the groom.

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Tyson of Carmel Point followed the afternoon ceremony.

Following graduation from Carmel High School, Betty attended UC at Santa Barbara, and later UC at Berkeley, of which her husband is a graduate. She will continue her education in Southern California where her husband is a medical student at USC.

Garcia . . . an Impressionist

In the Garcia Gallery at 6th and Dolores the art lovers can browse through many rooms of paintings by this prolific artist.

Known primarily for his impressionistic style his subject matter ranges from boats and harbor scenes to still life and floral paintings. His canvasses are noted for their unusual textural effects, brilliant color and elongated subjects.

There are Garcias in the private collections of people throughout the world; and in the permanent collections of several United States museums. Several churches contain his religious commissions. His paintings are priced realistically so that for a modest investment one can own an original. Full color reproductions of selected paintings are also available.

Danny Garcia lives with his wife Carmen and their two children in Carmel in a dramatic home soon to be shown in color in a national home magazine.

Art Education at Museum

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art on Lincoln Street has an exhibit for January and February that should attract everyone interested in Art. Arranged and created by Stephen Brown, curator, it gives a detailed description, with concrete examples, of nearly every type of medium used in creating a picture in color. Until you see them all, you would find it difficult to believe there exist so many.

It starts with the very oldest medium of "encaustic" (pigment added to hot melted wax), "fresco" (color applied to wet plaster), "tempera" (pigment mixed with egg white). Then you will also see "oil," "water color," "gouache," "pastels," "wood block," and the more modern media of "collage," "acrylic," and "casein."

Mr. Brown is to be congratulated for this most educational ind interesting display.

Town House Display

An exhibition of oils and watercolors by Eleanor Guttridge will be on display at Town House until January 26th. There are both landscapes and paintings of flowers as well as several abstract works; some done before the artist moved to Carmel three years ago and others more recently. Mrs. Guttridge has exhibited in the San Francisco Bay Area and in other cities. In 1966 she had an exhibition of lithographs at Town House. While living in Berkeley she was a member of the San Francisco Art Institute, the San Francisco Women Artists and the California Society of Etchers, and is now a member of the newly formed Pacific Grove Art Association and is exhibiting with this group.

LOVABLE 'POP' SMITH GONE

"Pop" Smith, picturesque Carmel personality since 1937, died Jan. 8, in Wadsworth Veterans Hospital, Los Angeles.

Born Cecil Moore Smith in 1875, he was never a "prominent person" like family members in his native Putney, England, but he was a successful human being: he lived his 92 years, 60 minutes to the hour.

Carmel was "his" town and he gave it his boundless cheer and energies. In return he asked only to be busy and to be liked. He was. On his 89th birthday, his post office box could not contain all his cards and letters.

Pop was known Peninsula-wide as wartime night clerk at Mission Inn, later as ticket taker for theaters in Carmel and Monterey; for his dozens of small parts in little theaters, plus appearances in four Hollywood productions filmed locally; for his year's-long role of Santa Claus, in real velvet and fur, for Holman's and for the Fort Ord Hospital; as frequent election board clerk and Christmas season postal employee; and finally his golf which he took up when he was nearly 70, and which was a subject of amusement.

After schooling in England and Germany, he became a cadet aboard square riggers in the British Merchant Marine. At age 20 he emigrated to Denver, Colo., to work for a cattle rancher, then progressed to Seattle. There in 1898 he enlisted in the Army and served in the Philippines in the Spanish - American War.

He joined the U.S. Merchant Marine, was discharged as "Seasick Smith," first spending unregretted months in Pago Pago awaiting return passage.

Speaking of varied jobs that followed in a number of cities, Pop said, "I never felt at home until I came to Carmel."

Louella Emma Williams of Chico, whom he married in 1905, died 49 years ago almost to the day. He raised their five children, outliving two sons, Frank and William. Survivors include his son George T. C. Smith, Carmel Valley photographer; a daughter, Mrs. Ludwig Koftan of Los Angeles who took Pop into her home after his health failed 2½ years ago; another daughter, Mrs. James Weir of New York City who in 1957 gave him the second of his two air trips to Europe; and several grandchildren.

More likely to play a "clown" rather than a "stage Englishman" in local theaters, Pop once quipped, "This time I've really got a part—the offstage voice of the parrot! I'm sensational!" Local critics always gave him affectionate reviews.

Pop gave away nearly all of his modest means to charities. His favorite was the Children's Hospital in San Francisco. In later years he turned over to the hospital his $10-a-month compensation check he received for a long-ago job injury.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

We have received so many new books during the past two weeks, that it would be difficult to cover them all adequately. Anyway, we'll try to give some brief comments on some of the special ones.

A charming collection of poems is ALL THE SILVER PENNIES, a new-old book which combines SILVER PENNIES and MORE SILVER PENNIES. We can't resist quoting the following sample:

"About Buttons"

Every button has a door
Which opens wide to let him in;
But when he rolls upon the floor,
Because he's tired of where he's been
And we can't find him
any more,
We use a pin.
by Dorothy Aldis

GOODBYE TO THE JUNGLE, by John Rowe Townsend, is sung to the tune of "Tipperary" by 11-year-old Harold as the family is moving. The jungle is a run-down district in Northern England, which is being torn down in a slum-clearance program. The Thompson family is being moved to a development project. How each member deals with the problems which they have brought with them is told in a realistic, contemporary and moving style.

For those who have enjoyed previous adventures of Encyclopedia Brown, boy detective, you have another treat in store. ENCYCLOPEDIA BROWN GETS HIS MAN, by Donald J. Sobol contains ten more cases solved by Leroy Brown, who is certainly the Perry Mason of the younger set—he never loses a case or misses a clue. At the end of the book the author gives the solutions to the various cases.

Two let's-read-and-find-out science books came in. HIGH SOUNDS, LOW SOUNDS, by Franklyn Branley and WHERE DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW? by Augusta Goldin contain information presented in a simple style, with helpful illustrations. The subjects are just what their titles imply. FREDERICK has arrived! If the adults stop taking Frederick home, the children will get to see him. He is a poetic mouse, beautifully illustrated by Leo Lionni, who stores his impressions of warmth and color for the grey days of winter, while the other mice are busy storing food. They appreciate Frederick's memories and everyone is happy. The illustrations are delicious.

A new ABC book which is worthy of notice is JOHN BURNINGHAM'S ABC, by John Burningham. The rich colors and the imaginative drawings make this a winner of an alphabet book. The letters are shown in both upper and lower case, with full-page, full-color illustrations.

For the rest of the new goodies, come in and see them.

Carmel Author in International Biography

Although delayed for delivery because of the slow-down strike in London, England, the Dictionary of International Biography has reached the Monterey Peninsula. Its fourth edition contains a fine biography of author Nelo Drizari of Carmel.

It also preannounces the publication of his next book: "Scanderbeg," a 15th Century knight who prevented Europe from being overrun by the mighty Ottoman Empire in 1453. The book is

California Chowders

Visitors over the Crosby weekend discovered how warming a California chowder could be after coming in off the breezy golf courses. Perhaps because clever hostesses served these stick-to-the-ribs chowders in large polished abalone shells made the contents even more tempting. Heat-retaining (although not to be used as a cooking utensil . . . just for serving) these lovely shells have been treated so the holes are plugged and they stand firmly on three plastic pegs. The Pacific Coast has always been a great chowder country as far back as the Indians who boiled a basket of water with wild herbs and roots, and whatever game they could find, by adding hot stones to the concoction. But best of all were the fish and abalone chowders so popular with the early settlers and seafaring people. Let's start off with two versions of abalone chowder presented, of course, in these attractive abalone shells.

Abalone Chowder

Two lbs. abalone; 3½ cups chicken consomme; ½ t. crushed oregano and rosemary, each; ½ lb. salt pork; 1 cup chopped onion; 1 green pepper, minced; 2 cups diced raw potatoes; 1 large can evaporated milk; 1 cup dry white wine; chopped fresh parsley; salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Serves 6.

Simmer abalone, whole or sliced, in stock with herbs. When tender, drain and reserve liquid. Grind the abalone meat. Dice the salt pork and brown to golden crispness. Save it and brown onion and green pepper lightly in the fat. Add potatoes, the abalone meat and liquid, evaporated milk, wine, and pork cubes. When potatoes are done, season to taste and top with parsley. Pass pilot biscuits with this super dish.

Oriental Abalone Chowder

Use canned abalone if the fresh is not available. Pour the liquid from a 1-lb. can and add 2 cups chicken broth to it. Dice the abalone and saute along with minced garlic and chopped green onions in a little peanut oil. Add cooked flaky white rice and then the liquids. Season with dry sherry and pass soya sauce at the table. Serve very hot in abalone shells. Serves 4.

Crab Chioppino

Three onions, chopped; 2 garlic cloves, minced; 4 T. olive oil; 2 large cans stewed tomatoes; red wine; ½ t., each, oregano and sweet basil; salt, pepper and chopped parsley; 6 whole, large, freshly steamed crab. Serves 6.

Heat olive oil slightly; saute onions and garlic in casserole. Add stewed tomatoes and enough dry red wine to make a fairly thick soup-stew; if not thick enough, canned tomato paste may be added. Add the meat from the crab, leaving the crab legs as whole as possible, but minus tendons and shell. Season to taste lightly and pass a black pepper grinder and grated Parmesan cheese at the table. Serve very hot from tureen into abalone shells. This is a California production which local Italian fishermen invented. Provide bibs for this, such as the gaily printed disposable ones. Serve with the round sourdough Italian bread and Monterey Jack cheese. Cubed canned potatoes may be added to the cioppino if desired. This is a meal in itself, as are all these recipes. Red wine, fruits and nuts are a fitting conclusion.

Lewis Named District President

Mr. J. Wentworth Lewis was unanimously elected as president of the Carmel Sanitary District at the annual meeting January 9. He will serve two years. Mr. Lewis is a retired professional engineer and business executive and has served as a member of the Board for the past two years. He has lived in Carmel for five years. Mr. Lewis succeeds Mr. H. C. Arnot who served as president for the past four years.

Mr. H. C. Hilbert was appointed secretary, and Mr. Shelburn Robinson designated legal counsel for the same period.

Tremendous improvements have been made in the district, particularly at the treatment plant where new facilities have been added. Plans are on file to further the expansion and further improve the operation of the plant. Mr. Max Drewien is the general manager for the District.

Other board members are Arnot, S. R. Fonseca, James B. Pruitt and W. I. Shepard.

Tom Henshaw War Victim

Thomas Stow Henshaw, 22, U.S. Marine lance corporal, was killed in Vietnam last month.

Tom was born in Carmel during World War II while his father, Marine Captain Edward T. Henshaw, was overseas, and his mother, Laurie Pilling Henshaw, made her home here. Tom was the nephew of Beva Pilling (Mrs. Peter) Farmer of Pebble Beach, and the grandson of Mrs. Ray B. Lyon of Canterbury Woods.

Do you wish
Christmas
meant more to you?

There are some who think that the Christmas story no longer has any meaning.

But the coming of the Christ is not just an isolated event that took place 2,000 years ago. For many, the joy and the inspiration of the Christ spirit come daily to help and to heal.

If you would like to know what Christmas can really mean to you, you will find some very good answers in the Christian Science Reading Room.

There you may read about the birth and the life of Jesus in the Bible. And, there you may find a book that illumines his teachings and shows you how they can inspire and uplift you today. It is called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Won't you come in and spend a few minutes of quiet study and prayer?

ENDLESS SUMMER Bruce Brown has filmed a beautiful documentary on surfing, following the "Endless Summer" around the world, California, Nigeria, South Africa, Australia, Hawaii, in search of the perfect wave. Color and photography extremely good.

TO SIR, WITH LOVE is entertainment of the warmest sort, so right that you would stand up and cheer. It reminds you of what really warm good movies are like. It is funny, you cry and you laugh, but it is a beautiful movie from top to bottom with lots of mod action. It swings its way into your affections.

Sidney Poitier as a new teacher in a school in the London slums opens a better way of living to his rebellious class of young people.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

SPRING IS HERE, ALREADY?

It would be news to snowbound Eastern states, but Spring is about to burst upon the Stevenson school after the usual "quiet" Fall. Semester finals are due next week, and starting on January 28th is the Spring Semester. While winding up basketball, five major sports are on tap for this year, with swimming, baseball, track, tennis and golf coaches already preparing schedules and training outlines. And there is the annual "spring" ski-week at Squaw Valley starting February 4th, along with the Northern California Prep Ski Championships. Then the Spring Bazaar, Fair and Auction, plus of course the Riding shows and Rifle matches, not to mention dances, a leadership conference, speech finals, and . . . oh yes, for the 8th and 12th grades, a special program called graduation.

We won't let Ed Brown, our Dean of Men, or Gene Carnes, our business manager (and transportation expert) see the above paragraph for obvious reasons.

The major mid-season sport continues as three R.L.S. teams play two or more games weekly. Some, like last Friday night, are real thrillers, as Junipero visited the Pebble Beach gym (as an aside . . . the only gym and the only Chapel in the city of Pebble Beach, California is at R.L.S.) for split decision honors.

The varsity, playing a top game, were nosed out by Junipero 68-64 as the game see-sawed back and forth all night. The difference was at the free-throw line as Junipero sank 15 of 37 while Stevenson was making only 10 of 24. George Winters also fouled out in the fourth quarter and the team missed their "big man" in the clutch. Both Winters and Eric Haas controlled the boards and John Cann dumped in 23 points to lead the team. The JV's played Carmel High and won 62-42 with West Clark and Gordan Bradley staring with 13 points each.

In the Frosh-Soph game, it was nip and tuck all the way as Junipero led from the start, and maintained that lead until the last three seconds when Willis Cook took aim with a "gamble" thirty foot shot, and sank it to win 35-34.

In other action last week, Mora trimmed Stevenson twice with a 78-66 varsity win and a close 53-48 Frosh-Soph score. Bob Williams led Coach Kinion's "Kats" (the Frosh-Soph team) with 13 points. In the varsity contest, Eric Paulsen played his top game of the year with 24 points and strong board control, as he was backed by George Winters, (13) and Jeff Erlandson and Mike Greene with 10 points each.

Stevenson lost a JV game to York by 54-52, won a Frosh-Soph non-league game against Carmel 42-24 and wound up the week by beating Pescadero twice on Saturday at Pescadero. The Saturday match saw John Cann hitting the mark again with 19 points and great action by subs Dan Guistina and Gordan Bradley. Jeff Erlandson was cited by Coach Zury for his defensive play. The Frosh-Soph game saw Willis Cook again lead his team with 13 points and strong performances by John Enders, Barry Biggerstaff, John Reilly. The final score was 44-32 although Pescadero led 18-12 at the half.

The "academic" team on campus, debate and forensics, takes another crack at P.F.L. action this weekend as they travel to Alisal High in hopes of improving their third place showing last Month. Top scoring Lonnie Foy, Bill Kondrat and Joel Harris will lead some 30 competitors in the next to last of league tournaments this season.

Spring Bazaar Action

Mrs. Robert D. Kelley, general chairman of the Annual Spring Bazaar, announced that weekly "work sessions" will be held at the home of Sponsors' Club President, Mrs. John E. Brock, 4120 Crest Road, in Pebble Beach. Members and friends are welcome to attend every Wednesday starting at 10:00 a.m. Committee appointments were also announced for the Raffle (Mrs. Thompson Hudson) and the Antique Section (Mrs. Richard Cotchett). More news next week on "progress" . . .

YOU CAN HAVE POTT LUCK HERE, TOO

Practice daily. Walk out your own front door on to the Carmel Valley Golf & Country Club course and start swinging. Your 2-bedroom, 2-bath house with the 17'x24' living room and 11'x17' dining room is flooded with sun, brightness and views of the mountains beyond the golfers. Owner is moving to Europe so your POTT luck also includes stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, disposal, draperies and wall-to-wall carpeting . . . BUT—all this for only $52,750.

CLOSE IN OCEAN VIEW LOT—$15,000

We have a 50'x115' lot about 6 blocks from the Post Office that has a fairly good view of Point Lobos and the ocean. It is level and clear. What more can you ask at this price, other than its location. Exclusive.

3 BEDROOMS—2 BATHS—2 LOTS—$39,500

FURTHERMORE, the house has charm, a separate dining room, and the location is SOUTH OF OCEAN. Land value alone is well over $30,000. We are most enthusiastic about this excellent listing.

3 BEDROOMS, 2 BATHS, STUDIO, $26,500

This older Carmel cottage has a very charming living room and dining room, each large, each with fireplace. Other features include a secluded, brick patio, a separate studio, an oversized corner lot, 3 bedrooms (or 2 and den), 2 baths, and a low price of $26,500. Shown any time.

LARGE 4-BEDROOM HOUSE 3 BLOCKS TO P.O.

AND A VERY VERSATILE HOUSE IT IS, TOO! Excellent for a family, 2 families, or income. Two bedrooms, 1½ baths up; two bedrooms, 1 bath down. Large living rooms with fireplaces up AND down. Dining room and big kitchen up. Double garage. Many other features. Full price is $64,500, and it probably couldn't be replaced today at $10,000 more.

Lines From Lois

OKAY NOW, YOU LOCALS
Let's Roll up our Sleeves
And Get to Work

The holidays are over. Your Crosby guests have come and gone. Very few tourists now until the Easter vacation. Wouldn't now be a good time to tackle your real estate problems and get them solved?

HOUSE TOO SMALL?

We've sold three of our big ones, but we still have a great family home on Atherton Drive in Carmel, 4 or 5 bedrooms and studio, for $42,500. Or how about Rancho Canada—lots of bedrooms, room for your horse, an acre to enjoy, a builder's own home for $65,000. Right in Carmel we have a 4-bedrom for only $34,500 (great for weekending). And if you really want to spread out, how about our adobe with the guest house and swimming pool in the Valley for $110,000.

HOUSE TOO BIG?

But you hate to give it up because it has such a nice big living room and you love to entertain? Let us show you a custom-built home on 5th Street in Carmel with a 35' x 18' beam-ceiling living room, 2 big bedrooms with fine baths, and easy-care grounds. Price only $42,500 and the owner really wants to sell; her Del Mesa unit is ready.

YOU WANT SOMETHING NEWER?

But you also do NOT want to go through the agony of a landscaping project again. Try our refreshingly different architect's home. Many innovations, but in no way "way out." It has a particularly interesting living room with a striking adobe and slate fireplace and a beautiful ocean view toward Point Joe. Very convenient to MPCC golf and club activities. Very much worth its $53,500 price.

SEEKING "OLD CARMEL CHARM?"

How about a half block south of Ocean Avenue—three rental units at the present time, and the lot is 75' x 100'. Collect income and depreciation benefits now; later build your own retirement home on the spot so ideally located for walking to all shops, banks, library and, of course, the beach. $47,500.

CLOSER TO YOUR GOLF?

We have a really private world inside interesting fences and patios which is located squarely in the middle of all the MPCC golf activity. It's a luxury home in an informal style, with 2200 square feet on the main floor and 1800 feet on a lower level, leaving lots of space for a guest apartment and hobbies besides the 3-car garage. All appliances included at $74,500.

HAVE A YEN TO BUILD?

We have some beautiful acre sites in Carmel Highlands, Rancho Rio Vista and the Valley, and two ocean-front sites in the Yankee Point Drive area. We also have building sites overlooking the ocean near Big Sur, five acres up to 1000. And some dandies in the Pebble Beach-MPCC area.

NEED DEPRECIATION BENEFITS?

Best time in years to own apartments. "No vacancy" is the rule everywhere on the Peninsula. Very little new construction because of the high cost of building and the interest rates. Most owners have little interest in selling. Aren't we lucky, then, to have 8 beautifully furnished units near Macy's for $130,000. Ask Eldon Gill for details about this investment.
